

Operation Support Officer
Hutchison Telecommunication Ltd.

Cheung Chi Wa Matthew
Associate of Business Administration (Human Resources Management)
Graduated in 2016

Matthew pursued a Wollongong top-up bachelor's degree after completion of his Associate Degree in Human Resources Management at the College. In 2017, he received the Bachelor of Business degree from the University of Wollongong. "The knowledge I have accumulated through these years has not only entitled me to academic qualifications. More importantly, it has equipped me with a solid conceptual foundation for my work performance in the field of human resources," Matthew said. He successfully received a job offer by Hutchison Telecommunication Ltd to work as Operations Support Officer. In his job he needs to handle complicated calculations of all commissions and incentives for the Telesales and to prepare analysis reports for review by the management. Recently, Matthew has been entrusted by his supervisor with the role of monitoring dealings with vendors in the Mainland. "I am so grateful to all my past lecturers at the College. They have inspired me to set higher goals in life and to always look forward to the future. This is just the right mindset for survival in our competitive business environment," Matthew remarked.
