

Manager, Director's Office

The Art Museum, The Chinese University of Hong Kong

WONG YEE TING PRUDENCE

Associate of Arts in Translation and Interpretation

Graduated in 2011

Prudence is currently working as Manager of the Director's Office at the Art Museum in the Chinese University of Hong Kong. Her studies in Associate of Arts in Translation and Interpretation has trained her to become confident in conducting effective communication orally and textually. The sensibility, eloquence and flexibility with language is highly relevant to her job especially in establishing and maintaining relations with internal and external parties, such as colleagues in the Museum, other departments of the University and the Advisory Board. As the liaison point of the museum, the acquired habit to search for utterance's implications and intentions allows her to understand the expectations and concerns of colleagues, partners and donors. In addition, the repeated training on keeping speech precise and concise, and to adjust the conveyance of the same message in various ways according to diversified recipients helps her to communicate and negotiate with them in an effective and productive way. These qualities proved to be vital in her role at work.